Councilmen Bicker Over Rates

GOELLER'S MOVE HITS ORDINANCE OF POWER FIRM

Change in Title is Held As New Proposal By President

GORDON'S PLAN BEATEN

'Dads' Split 3 to 4 Over 5-year Contract

Councilmen failed to settle the light rate question Wednesday night. They ended their long discussion with the proposition technically on the same basis that it was a year ago today.

The original rate ordinance, presented to council a year ago and amended last month to comply with new rate-bracket terms, was pushed entirely out of the picture. An amended ordinance, a surprise from the electric company, was given one reading and tabled for consideration at a later date.

The new ordinance was presented to council by T. M. Barnes as a motion, but under a ruling of President John C. Goeller, it was declared an ordinance with one reading. The ruling left all councilmen so surprised that they dropped further consideration of light rates until a later date.

Ordinance Referred After council had cleared away all regular business, Frank Marion, chairman of council as a committee on the rate problem, asked to refer the original ordinance back to council for a third reading.

Goeller informed Marion the ordinance was no longer in the committee's hands as it was referred back to council more than a month ago for amendments on the terms of the rate brackets. The ordinance was given a third reading.

Following the reading, Councilman Ben Gordon moved that council amend the ordinance so the rates were on a five-year basis, the first four years to be on the four-year bracket offered by the company, and the last year under the six-year schedule.

This motion brought considerable wrangling among councilmen and business men. When a vote was finally taken the motion was defeated four to three. Affirmative votes were made by Gordon, Helweggen and Steinhauser, with C. O. Leist, Marion, Barnes and Neuding against it.

Following this vote, Councilman Barnes announced he had a motion to present. This motion was an amendment to the original ordinance changing the name of the company due to the recent merger. The motion contained a complete ordinance with revisions.

Goeller in Action When Clerk Fred Nicholas had completed reading the lengthy motion, or ordinance, the surprise came. "That is a new ordinance and not a motion," Mr. Goeller said. "It changes the name of the company and I declare it a new ordinance." (Continued on Page Twelve)

In Nazi Disfavor?

REPORT that Leni Riefenstahl, red-haired German cinema director who is said to be held in high regard by Fuehrer Adolf Hitler, had been "denounced" at a social event because she was not of pure Aryan descent was granted by the Nazi propaganda ministry as "too silly to be denied." According to the report, Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, propaganda minister, was said to have announced during the social event that he had documentary proof of Miss Riefenstahl's Jewish blood. To this a spokesman said: "Miss Riefenstahl's Aryan affidavit is registered with the Reich film chamber."

PART OF COUNTY GETS RAINFALL, OTHER DOES NOT

Despite the heavy rains in Circleville, Wednesday night, Pickaway township farmers continued with their corn plowing, Thursday.

One of the farmers plowing Thursday was George Jury, Route 1. Light showers fell on his farm Wednesday night.

Rainfall in Circleville in the 24 hours previous to 9 a. m. Thursday was .56 of an inch. The rain was general throughout the northern section of the county, reports indicated.

No damage to wheat was reported, but farmers are complaining about their corn plowing. Heavy rains have kept them from cultivating and weeding as "taking the fields," they said. The rain slowed down the pea harvest.

Continued rains have made it difficult for farmers battling army worms. Rain destroys the sweetened bran poison used to control the pests.

Fair weather was promised Friday by the government weather bureau.

AUDITOR SCORES GOVERNOR'S USE OF BILL-PASSERS

COLUMBUS, June 17.—(UP)—State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson today had announced that heads of state departments must produce sworn statements that their employees devoted full time to their jobs before payrolls will be approved. "Responsibility for loss of time of employees due to the passing of the personal political letter of Governor Davey rests squarely on Governor Davey and the heads of his various departments," Ferguson said.

Ferguson referred to the charge that many employees left their work early this week to distribute a message from the governor in defense of his budget.

"It would perhaps be unjust to make the coerced state employees wait for their pay while we investigate the correctness of payrolls," Ferguson said.

Soviet Russian Purge Of Traitors Spreading

MOSCOW, June 17.—(UP)—A merciless campaign for extermination of "traitors" spread through vast Soviet Russia from the Baltic and Black seas to the Pacific today.

Hundreds of men were involved already. Newspapers which denounced long lists of men as wreckers, spies, traitors, Trotskyists, scoundrels, bandits, rightists, nationalists and enemies of the people ended their blasts with the significant "and others."

It was announced that A. G. Chervakov, president of the White Russia Republic, had committed suicide "for personal and family reasons."

But coincidentally it was revealed that the Communist party executive for White Russia had sent him a note asking him why he permitted "traitors" to sidetrack plans for two important military inventions.

STEEL FACTORY PICKET WOUNDED

Canton Alloy Plant Scene of Disorder As Freight Train is Moved

CANTON, June 17.—(UP)—A picket was shot today during movement of freight into the struck United Alloy plant, a Republic Steel Corporation subsidiary.

The picket was identified as Steve Mann. He was shot in the arm. A bullet ripped the sleeve of another picket.

The outbreak of violence occurred as three heavily-loaded trains were moved into the mill and two were brought out, under guns of guards.

Strike leaders said the guards were part of a detachment of 240 railroad police deputized by Gov. Martin L. Davey at Columbus during the last two weeks.

News Flashes

STEEL SHARES UP

NEW YORK, June 17.—(UP)—Steel shares led a recovery on the stock exchange today after an early break of 1 to 3 points had plunged the list to new lows for the year. The rally reflected buying inspired by indications of a break in the steel labor situation. U. S. Steel, which had dropped to 92½, pushed up to 94½ for ½ point gain. Republic jumped more than 2 points from its low to 7½ point gain at 33½. Bethlehem rallied to a point gain at 80½, or 2 points above its low. Youngstown Sheet & Tube also had a 2 point gain.

AIDE COMES TO U. S.

LONDON, June 17.—(UP)—A. G. Allen, the Duke of Windsor's attorney, sailed for the United States today on the Queen Mary. It is understood that he will spend six weeks touring the United States and Canada. Associates would not say whether Allen intended to carry out any commissions abroad on behalf of the duke.

Refugees Fleeing Bilbao With Scanty Food and Bedding Supplies

ARMY MASSED FOR MARCH

Machine Guns, Bombs and Grenades Are Used

NATIONALIST FIELD HEADQUARTERS, OUTSIDE BILBAO, June 17.—(UP)—The insurgents advanced on shattered Bilbao from all sides today under cover of a heavy artillery attack and an aerial bombing of the Loyalist positions on the eastern side of the Nervion river.

The Requetes (Carlist Monarchists), Fascists and "black arrow" Italians advanced in the face of of desperate Basque resistance.

Tanks and armored assault cars were brought up opposite Bilbao in steady streams for entry into the Basque capital as soon as Gen. Francisco Franco, nationalist commander-in-chief, gives the word.

Airplanes and Artillery Under "sunny, calm skies, airplanes joined the artillery with machine gun fire, bombs and hand grenades in attacking the stricken Basque capital.

Aerial observers reported that refugees were fleeing from Bilbao northwestward towards Santander in a clogged stream. The roads were choked with straggling families, carrying scanty possessions.

Children trailed their burdened parents, who carried mostly such essential food supplies and meager bedding as they could obtain. Ox carts and modern automobiles vied for the right of way in the tangled confusion, and the exodus moved slowly.

TREASURY CHIEF ASKS NEW LAWS TO END EVASIONS

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(UP)—Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau asked a joint congressional committee today to enact legislation closing loop-holes in the federal tax laws.

He described various "ingenious methods" used to evade or avoid taxes, but did not name the persons who allegedly used the devices.

Appearing as first witness before a joint house-senate committee appointed at President Roosevelt's request to investigate tax evasion, Morgenthau criticized what he termed "unethical and unwarranted avoidance of taxes."

He contended that the nation had developed a group of "ingenious lawyers and accountants who make their living by showing to people who can afford to pay them ways by which they may pay the least possible taxes."

City Council Is Asked To Okeh Subdivision

Councilmen were asked, Wednesday night, to approve the new Spring Hollow subdivision, east of N. Pickaway street.

The subdivision, just south of Berger hospital, includes eight acres of land, in 32 lots. It is owned by Harry and Harvard Crist.

Under restrictions made by the owners, no building of objectionable obstruction is to be erected within 25 feet of the public streets, all lots are restricted to residences, and each property must cost more than $4,500. The plat of the addition includes three roadways or streets.

Wins Mayor Fight

A FORMER mayor of Minneapolis, Brig. Gen. George E. Leach, above, has been elected again, winning over Kenneth C. Haycraft, Farmer-Labor opponent, by nearly 20,000 votes. Leach ran as a conservative in the predominantly Farmer-Labor city and his victory was hailed by some as the "beginning of the end" for the party in the state.

WORK RESUMES AT HIGH SCHOOL

Strike of Contractors in Franklin County Ended After Agreement

Work has been resumed on the addition to the high school building. This project was suspended last Saturday as a result of the walkout-lockout of Columbus tradesmen and contractors.

Employees of the Trapp-Carroll Co., Columbus general contractors on the addition, said they understood no agreement had been reached in the building controversy in Columbus.

They said any wage agreements established will not include the local project as it is under P. W. A. wage scales established by the government. Thirty men are now employed on the project. At present the building is being plastered and terrazzo work is being installed. The company expects to have the building completed by Aug. 15.

DEMOS TO MEET MONDAY TO PICK BOARD MEMBER

The Pickaway county Democratic executive committee will meet next Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the offices of Probate Judge C. C. Young to choose a successor to J. R. Hott, Reftown, on the board of elections. Mr. Hott died last week.

The committee will vote an endorsement, the actual appointment to be made by Secretary of State William Kennedy.

Lawrence Goeller, chairman of the executive committee said that five applications have been received. It is believed the position will go to a rural Democrat.

GOVERNOR'S PEACE EFFORTS FAILURES

Plea Sent to Roosevelt as Steel Strife Continues in Many of State's Cities; Johnstown Mayor Seeks Assistance

"MURDEROUS ELEMENT" IS BLAMED

Coal Operators Warn Lewis to Keep Hands Off Mines Furnishing Corporations Fuel

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, June 17.—(UP)—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins today named a three-man board to seek mediation of a seven-state steel strike. She appointed Charles P. Taft, Cincinnati, as chairman; Lloyd K. Garrison, former chairman of the National Labor Relations board, and Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor. The board will begin work immediately with headquarters at Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, June 17.—(UP)—A second request for presidential intervention in the steel strike came from a public official today.

Gov. Martin L. Davey of Ohio telegraphed President Roosevelt an "urgent request" to undertake settlement.

Yesterday Mayor Daniel J. Shields of Johnstown, Pa., asked President Roosevelt to intercede with John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, against "the murderous element that now infests my city."

In Washington today, Philip Murray, of the C.I.O.'s steel workers organizing committee confers with Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins. He said he would place the "bald facts" of the controversy before her and let her decide on the question of federal intervention.

Two Stabbed at Johnstown Clashes continued on the picket line at Bethlehem Steel Corporation's Johnstown, Pa., plant. Two men were stabbed, one critically, last night.

Back-to-work movements on other strike sectors carried a threat of more trouble if pickets resist non-strikers.

Governor Davey told the president that he had exhausted "every avenue of approach" to attempted settlement of the strike, which revolves around the C.I.O. steel union's demand for signed contracts.

He had conferred with strike leaders and representatives of Republic Steel Corp. and Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. The other two companies involved are Inland Steel Co. and Bethlehem. They do not have plants in Ohio. Other developments: YOUNGSTOWN, O.—Chairman John Owens of the Ohio C. I. charged Sheet & Tube Co. was financing back-to-work organizations and declared this was a violation of the Wagner act. He said there were fake names on back-to-work petitions.

JOHNSTOWN, PA.—Bethlehem rejected a proposal by Murray to settle the contract issue by a National Labor Board election.

John Lewis Warned PITTSBURGH — The western Pennsylvania Coal Operators association warned Lewis that any attempt by the United Mine Workers to shut down mines selling coal to the steel companies would be a "deliberate violation" of contract for which it would hold him responsible. ### HARLOW'S WILL LEAVES ESTATE TO HER MOTHER

HOLLYWOOD, June 17.—(UP)—Jean Harlow's will, on file today, made the star's mother her sole heir, but did not disclose the amount of her estate, variously estimated from $100,000 to $1,000,000.

The will merely filled legal requirements by stating the estate was "in excess of $10,000." All was left to Mrs. Jean Harlow, with no mention of Miss Harlow's father, Dr. Monte Carpenter, Kansas City dentist, or her stepfather, Marino Bello.

Anyone successfully contesting the will, it was stipulated, was to be paid $1.

36 YOUNGSTERS OF 'HOME' TO BE OLENTANGY GUESTS

Thirty-six youngsters of the Children's Home will go to Columbus next Monday as guests of the Columbus Auto club on an outing at Olentangy park. They will leave the home at 7:45 a. m. Free transportation, food and rides will be provided for the youngsters.

CROP OUTLOOK FORCES PRICES TO LOW MARKS

Decline Begun in April May Continue for Several Months
LARGE RETURN SEEN
Wheat, Cotton Skid in Last Market Reports

WASHINGTON, June 17 (UP)—The decline in farm commodity prices begun in mid-April probably will continue for several months, Department of Agriculture economists believe.
Prospects of larger crops this year will tend to force prices lower, but no sharp break is expected, economists said. Despite expected declines prices probably will average higher than a year ago, it was said.
Increased marketings at least will offset any price declines so that total farm income this year probably will be at least as great as last year, F. L. Thompson, marketing economist, said.
Tending to prevent any sharp break in prices is the fact that the carryover of principal crops this year will be considerably smaller than normal, it was said. Increased consumer purchasing power also will tend to bolster prices against a fall.
Farm prices on May 15 were 128 percent of the 1909-1914 average. That represented a two point decline from the April 15 high of 130, a peak reached after several months of steadily rising prices.
Two factors contributed to this decline. One was the immediate supply and demand. The other was prospects of increased production this year. Unless adverse weather upsets calculations, prices will ease downward as the new harvest approaches.
Spread of a threatened drought in the great plains "bread basket" would tend to reverse the price trend and might even send prices higher than for last year's crop, economists said.
Wheat and cotton prices suffered the greatest price losses during the last month. Wheat more than 15 cents a bushel below the high point, and cotton is off approximately 2 cents a pound.

Declines in prices of calves, sheep and lambs were more than offset by price advances on cattle and hogs. The latter was effected by increased corn prices. Fruit and truck crop prices registered substantial gains.
Despite the price decline starting in mid-April farm income in the month was the highest in seven years, Department of Agriculture reports said. Total farm income was $659,000,000 of which $76,000,000 was AAA benefit payments, compared with a $530,000,000 total in April, 1936.
The carryover of principal farm products will be the lowest since start of the depression, economists said. The carryover of wheat will be less than 100,000,000 bushels and the lowest since 1919, it was forecast.
The corn carryover, as a result of the 1936 drought which cut the crop a 1,000,000,000 bushel short, will be the smallest in 20 years, it was said. The cotton carryover will be 1,000,000 bales below last year's carryover of 6,950,000 bales, the department forecast.
"It is obvious," Thompson commented, "that the present supply situation is such as to absorb at least a normal crop in most commodities without greatly affecting the price situation."

COUNCIL PASSES ORDINANCES FOR CITY OPERATION

Money Set Aside For Spouting For Memorial Hall, Salaries At Berger Hospital

SUPPLIES BOUGHT, TOO

Contract With State for Canal Land Favored

Three ordinances were voted by council Wednesday night under suspension of rules.

Councilmen appropriated an additional $400 to cover the cost of new spouting at Memorial hall. An appropriation of $400 for salaries at Berger hospital, and $350 for supplies was passed.

Another ordinance authorized city officials to make a contract with the state for leasing abandoned canal lands south of High street for storage purposes. The annual rental on the land is $60. It extends about 378 feet south of the south line of W. High street.

The third ordinance authorized an agreement with the county commissioners for construction of new municipal restrooms in the courthouse. The expense is not to exceed $4,000. The county has agreed to maintain the restrooms.

JURY STUDYING GIRL'S CHARGES AFTER "PARTY"

LOS ANGELES, June 17—(UP)—The grand jury called in several movie extra girls today to hear more about a wild west party at which 20-year-old Patricia Douglas said she was assaulted.

Miss Douglas accused David Ross, Chicago film salesman, of the attack. It happened, she said, at a party given for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer salesmen who were in Hollywood for a convention. The party was at a ranch near Hollywood, the girl said, and she and about 100 other extra girls were taken there as entertainers, although she thought it was to be for a scene in a motion picture.

Ross, who came here by airplane from Chicago to defend himself after the girl had identified his picture, met his accuser in the courthouse when the grand jury opened its investigation yesterday. He stared at the girl but said nothing. News photographers tried to have Miss Douglas pose looking at Ross but she refused.

Both appeared before the grand jury. Ross was asked one question: "What is your name?" He replied: "David Ross." Miss Douglas was asked if she recognized him. "That is the man," she replied.

Visit to Pickaway Home And Its Children Told

Karl Kraft and Family, Of Illinois, Visit in Ashville

By S. D. FRIDLEY
Phone Ashville 79

When on our trip the other day to "just look around" and see what the other people were doing, we passed a large building labelled the "Children's Home." Had heard a considerable about this place, especially when Mr. and Mrs. George Runkle were in charge and more recently the present people, Mr. and Mrs. George Goodchild. Stopped in to see what "we might find." Everybody was busy here and there and we just sauntered around until we came on a bunch of about a dozen little people in charge of what we call a matron, Miss Lucile Aldenderfer. These youngsters, to me were an interesting lot, especially two four-year-old tots, little Miss Evelyn Oglesby and a boy, Hinton Waites, whose mother is dead. The father, "a good while ago" used to be our correspondent for The Pickaway News from East Ringgold and was one of our best. A little boy who had got too unruly was lying down on a bench to "rest up awhile." Only the mildest type of punishment is used when necessary. Everywhere we went, and we think we saw it all, things were clean and in good order. Met Supt. Goodchild who showed us about the place and invited us back whenever convenient to come. The children of the home attend school at Washington township centralized building, being taken there by the home's own bus. There are 34 children in the home now, the oldest a girl, 18, and a boy and girl, four. If there were any colored children in the home we failed to see them. We failed yesterday to say there are 950 boys, 250 of them colored, in the boys' school at Lancaster.

Aurora Visitors

Out on their annual vacation, Karl Kraft, wife and four children, Pat Ann, Betty Lou, Joyce and Don, stopped off at Ashville for a short visit the first of the week. They are home town folk, the mister being a son of the late Warren and Mrs. Kraft and the Mrs. a daughter of S. C. Allison. When at home they are at Aurora, Ill., where Mr. Kraft is manager of a Kresge store. He has been with these people for quite a while, starting with the company at Columbus. Years ago, when Karl was out of a job, he hunted all over

Columbus for one, and the only place he could find was at Kresge's 10-cent store. This was not at all to his liking and he didn't like the idea of having the Ashville people and especially his best girl to find out that he was working in a 10-cent shop. But it was all he could find so he decided to try it a round, and too, he didn't have to tell everybody that he was down in a store basement unpacking a lot of goods. But one day, when he had not been there very long, a new shad yet, the store manager needed an assistant and Karl, because he had pitched in and worked, was selected for the place. And in not so long a time was given charge of the store when the boss was away. Then made manager of another store. And now a real one at the Illinois town of Aurora. So Karl's lowly job turned out to be a real one. No, we did not ask him about his salary, but happen

FIELDS ORDERED TO PAY DOCTOR HIS $12,000 FEE

RIVERSIDE, Calif., June 17—(UP)—W. C. Fields of the film comedy roles announced today he would appeal through the "last court in the land" from an order that he pay Dr. Jesse Citron $12,000 for treating him for pneumonia.

The doctor said his treatment had also included cutting down Fields' whiskey rations from two quarts a day to an ounce and a half. Superior Judge O. K. Morton ordered Fields to pay the bill and dismissed the actor's counter-suit for $25,000 damages in which he charged the doctor with malpractice.

As for the whiskey, Fields said: "Why, it's preposterous. I never drank that much a day even in the good old days." He demanded that his lawyer ask for a new trial until his case gets through the supreme court, if necessary, "and then we'll go through the last court in the land."

The records showed that Fields spent 25 days in the hospital last summer under Dr. Citron's treatment. The doctor said the fee was based on the patient's wealth and that Fields admitted he drew at $6,000 weekly salary and had $700,000 in banks.

to know from other sources that it's "a plenty."

MALL TOWN OF MONROE BEWILDERED TO FIND ITSELF IN NATION'S EYE

C. I. O. Folk Of Michigan Town Differ

Most of Millhands Receive $220-$230 Monthly Even During Depression

MONROE, Mich., June 17.—Monroe today is bewildered that it suddenly should be thrust into the national spotlight by a steel mill riot.

Moreover, reactions of many of this town's 20,000 residents, seem to indicate they are deeply resentful of the C. I. O.

The C. I. O. admits there is feeling against it in Monroe but says the people of Monroe have been misled by their civic leaders. C. I. O. organizers aver they will organize the big steel plant here and that when the people of the community realize the aims of organized labor the resentment will turn to friendliness.

From the courteous attendant who fills your car with gasoline at the corner filling station to the home owner who puts in the flower garden on the front lawn on a Sunday afternoon, I found bitter criticism of the C. I. O. because it brought "outsiders" into Monroe to sign up workers at the Newton steel plant.

To know the feeling here after vigilantes broke up a C. I. O. picket line with tear gas and clubs to allow the Newton plant to reopen, you have to know Monroe.

Mill Is Isolated

Monroe is not the typical steel mill town. It has no towering smokestacks of steel mills overshadowing its residential sections as in some Pennsylvania steel centers. The Newton mill, a subsidiary of the Republic Steel corporation, is off by itself, two miles from a main road out on a marsh.

Through the center of Monroe courses the Raisin river, made broader than its natural bed, by a wide low dam. Overlooking part of the river is a picturesque convent. The streets are broad and shaded. The city hall, a red brick structure, sits far back from the street behind a tree-studded lawn. Normally, Monroe has only 25 policemen to patrol its streets.

About one-twentieth, or 1,000 of its 20,000 residents, are employed in the steel mill. The others are employed in paper mills at large

Monroe vigilantes, well armed, on the way to city hall to offer their services.

Mayor Daniel Knaags of Monroe converses with Michigan's Gov. Frank Murphy, right.

Cars owned by C. I. O. workers overturned as picket line at Monroe's Republic Steel plant was smashed and non-strikers returned to work.

furniture factory and smaller industries. A four-lane highway and main trunk railroads carry its traffic to Detroit and Toledo, its two nearest big cities.

Wages High

Monroe is within driving distance of Detroit's big auto factories and the steel mills of some of Detroit's downriver communities. The proximity of these outside industries has tended to keep wage scales in industries here high since the workers would drift off to Detroit to work if wages were otherwise.

Steel mill hands "out at the Newton plant" draw an average of $220 or $230 a month, and nearly all of them worked steadily throughout the depression. Residents here tell you rather pridefully that Monroe throughout the depression had no relief problem. They will tell you Monroe is a city of home owners with few large apartments. They will tell you that every family here, with but rare exceptions, has an automobile.

They point to their shaded leisurely-looking streets and the fact that there is no crowded slum district. They claim nearly every home has a yard. And a drive around Monroe fails to reveal any great flaws in their claims.

Organizers Sent In

It was into such a picture the C. I. O. stepped. As part of the battle against Republic steel in other states, it sent organizers into the city, signed up some of Newton's workers—how many is a matter of dispute—and established a picket line on the road leading to the mills. The plant closed.

Monroe in slightly more than a week began to feel the pinch, as the steel workers saw payless paydays go by. Mayor Daniel E. Knaags then took a poll of workers. Some 800 of Newton's 1,300 workers voted to go back to their jobs, according to the mayor. Twenty voted against return and the others did not vote. This indicated that C. I. O. strength was less than 500—no reflection on the C. I. O. since the S. W. O. C. had been active here only a short time.

But many residents rose up in arms—with shotguns, deer rifles, tear gas and clubs—when the vote became known and they decided to break the picket line to let the mill reopen. They did, amid a riot in which a dozen were hurt. Spokesmen for the town warned "outside labor agitators" to leave.

C. I. O.'s View

Van A. Bittner, regional director of the S. W. O. C. from Chicago, in discussing the Monroe situation, later said the men were led by interests backed by the Republic Steel. Bittner said the C. I. O. had no resentment against "The good people of Monroe." He continues that the labor movement is "with us to stay," and that the people of Monroe will back the C. I. O. just as much as they once fought against it, "when they understand the true facts of the situation."

Home Martin UAW president, in discussing conditions at Monroe, says:

"Monroe has made a name for itself. It has written across the heavens with writing in blood the name of oppression, despotism and brute force. Monroe will long be remembered not for what it contributed to American civilization, but as a name associated with spilled blood of those who protest against autocracy."

Charles Kiser, in Detroit, discredited director of the S. W. O. C. claims the election conducted by meeting here to protest the Newton violence. Mayor Knaags appealed to Gov. Frank Murphy for troops and got them. Mayor Knaags feared the townfolk would raid the meeting. The city commission at that time said formally "bloodshed is imminent" because feeling was so high. The meeting finally was moved to a state park, four miles outside the city limits and Mayor Knaags told Monroe residents to remain at home that day.

Holiday Spirit

About 400 troops were called out and Monroe on the day of the meeting made it something of a holiday. Most of the town went down to the armory to watch the troops in bayonet drills. They appeared little interested in the state park rally of unionists. That is typical of Monroe. Fortunately there was no violence.

Monroe backs its mayor solidly. Governor Murphy also had a word of praise for the mayor, and Murphy is a friend of labor.

Underneath the situation here is a feeling that the government ought to take some steps to curb organized labor in incidents such as occurred here. Some think it is the beginning of an outcropping of sentiment for social regulation throughout the nation.

Parents' Discourtesy Decried

CLEVELAND (UP)—Mrs. William P. Leffler, new president of the Akron Deane, National Council of Catholic Women, thinks most parents are discourteous to their children. She says plain common sense is the most important factor in bringing up a family.

In central Turkestan, cross-eyed doctors are in great demand. They are believed by the superstitious to have peculiar healing powers.

Finally, when the C. I. O.'s United Automobile Workers union announced it would hold a mass

Mayor Knaags was a sham and a fraud, boycotted by "our men". "The C. I. O. has asked for a national election under the auspices of the National Labor Relations board, and, if we win, for a signed contract. That is all we want," Kiser asserts.

"Unless and until we get it, this war will go on. The Monroe plant is only partly operating. Soon its supply of ore will be shut off. It will be strangled from the outside. If anybody thinks John L. Lewis and the C. I. O. are going to desert the Monroe strikers, they are crazy. This is a battle to the finish. We have only begun to fight."

No Strikebreakers

Whichever side sympathies are with, the C. I. O. or the steel company, this fact remains: The Newton company was able to resume normal operation after the picket line was broken. Most of its workers—if not all of them—were glad to return to their jobs. There was no importation of strikebreakers, as far as could be learned. Most of Monroe would resent strikebreakers just as much as they do "outside labor agitators."

From scores of persons this writer questioned, there is one outstanding observation. That the C. I. O. simply made a tactical error by closing down the steel plant here before it had time fully to organize the workers. The men who rose up to break the picket line were not from any one group that could be led or controlled. They came from all walks of life. Many were the steel workers, others downtown merchants, and even a bank clerk took up a club.

The C. I. O. drive was in charge of an organizer from Toledo. Had the C. I. O. put its campaign in the hands of someone well-known in Monroe there probably would have been no riot.

Finally, when the C. I. O.'s United Automobile Workers union announced it would hold a mass meeting here to protest the Newton violence. Mayor Knaags appealed to Gov. Frank Murphy for troops and got them. Mayor Knaags feared the townfolk would raid the meeting. The city commission at that time said formally "bloodshed is imminent" because feeling was so high. The meeting finally was moved to a state park, four miles outside the city limits and Mayor Knaags told Monroe residents to remain at home that day.

Geneva, Ohio Motorist tells how SOHIO saves him money

"I was only getting 12 to 18 months' use out of my batteries and was pretty mad about it, even though part of the trouble was my own fault. I was continually forgetting to check it up. That all changed when I became a SOHIO 'regular.' Your men watch my battery like a hawk. I've had 33 months' service on my latest battery—an Atlas Battery—bought from one of your SOHIO Dealers. Your all-around good set-up is saving me money, not only on gasoline and motor oil, but car upkeep as well. Thanks."

$9.50 to $10.40 Paid For Good to Choice

Cattle sales were heavy on the Pickaway county Livestock Co-operative market, Thursday, but prevailing prices were considerably below those of a week ago.

Two hundred and forty-four heads of cattle were handled with good to choice steers and heifers bringing $9.50 to $10.40. Last week good to choice stock brought $10 to $11.70. Twenty-two heads were sold direct for $13.10.

The hog run was light, only 252 being handled. Good to choice from 180 to 250 pounds paid $10.80 to $11.25, compared with slightly higher figures of a week earlier.

Seventy-four calves and 44 sheep and lambs were handled during the sale.

Duke Duchess Popular in Vienna

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor walk through the streets of Vienna, Austria, and cheering crowds follow in their wake. The two are honeymooning at Castle Wasserleoburg in Austrian Alps.

All Hollywood Sees Wedding of Two Stars

HOLLYWOOD, June 17.—(UP)—Jeanette MacDonald took a day off from her film studio today to be with her husband, Gene Raymond at the bride's home in Beverly Hills.

In a lavish church wedding and a reception that lasted until midnight, the red-haired movie songbird was married last night to her blond sweetheart of several years.

Hollywood celebrities turned out en masse with a display of limousines, jewels, furs and flowers that has not been seen in church since the wedding of Rod La Rocque and Vilma Banky ten years ago.

Five thousand movie fans jammed Wilshire boulevard for three blocks and delayed the ceremony an hour because the bridesmaids could not get through traffic.

Sixpence in Each Heel

The newlyweds sped home from church, pursued by the cheering, jostling crowd, and Miss MacDonald told, after changing her clothes, how she had walked up the altar with a sixpence in the heel of each shoe for luck. A friend gave her the sixpence and she borrowed the shoes from her studio.

Friday, Miss MacDonald must report back to her studio to finish a picture. She will sail for Honolulu with her husband June 26 for a month's honeymoon.

The crowd turned out last night with the same hilarity that it might have greeted the premier of a picture. Men, women and children were wedged 20-deep up to the church doors and stood there waiting for three hours.

Members of the bridal party and hundreds of the 1,000 invited guests were still tangled in the jam outside Wilshire Methodist Episcopal church at 9 o'clock, scheduled hour of the ceremony. It was an hour before the police riot squad of 200 brought them through. Many were weary and soiled by the pawing hands.

Seated in the pews or standing in attendance for the couple were Lupe Velez, Loretta Young, Joan Bennett, Ann Sothern, Mary Brian, Anita Louise, Irene Hervey, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lloyd, Glenda Farrell and many others of

CHARTER ISSUES STIR NEW YORK

ALBANY, N. Y.—(UP)—Democratic and Republican leaders of President Roosevelt's home state plan to nominate New York state's most prominent statesmen as delegates to the 1938 Constitutional Convention.

With the meeting destined to become one of the most important political events in New York state during the past 20 years, both parties are determined to elect a majority of the delegates.

The Constitution calls for election of 168 delegates—three from each of the 51 Senatorial districts and 15 at-large—who will receive $2,500 for their labor.

Last Convention in 1915

The last Constitutional Convention was held in 1915, when the late Elihu Root, former senator and Secretary of State, was elected chairman. Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, 1928 Democratic presidential candidate, played an important part.

Present political leaders, it was said, believe that control of the convention, scheduled to convene April 1, 1938, hinges on the 15 delegates-at-large. Candidates undoubtedly will include Republican and Democratic gubernatorial timbers.

All of the delegates will be selected at the general elections in November and campaign issues are already being discussed.

Republicans, it was reported, plan to concentrate their attack upon Mr. Roosevelt's proposal for reorganization of the U. S. Supreme Court and legislation which he has sponsored and which has been held unconstitutional.

The G. O. P. leaders, however, privately admit that at present their chances of controlling the convention appear doubtful. They explained that Democrats already control the state senate by a 29 to 22 majority and polled huge pluralities in the Presidential and gubernatorial elections last year.

May Offer 20 Proposals

Leaders of both parties are expected to fight for a minimum of proposed changes to the constitution, although nearly a score will probably find their way to the delegates. That was decided upon when results of the 1915 meeting were studied.

At that convention many actress; Mrs. John Mack Brown, actor's wife, and Mrs. Richard Hargreaves.

The chimes rang out as the groom's party marched to the altar, two by two. They were Harold Lloyd and Allan Jones. John Mack Brown and Basil Rathbone. Richard Hargreaves and Warren Rock.

Nelson Eddy, who has often played the part of Miss MacDonald's sweetheart in musical pictures, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Perfect Love."

It was a single ring ceremony. As the principals left the church in the final procession, the crowd burst through the roped-off police lines. Scores of the fans milled, cheering, about the bridal limousine. Police cleared a path for it and the fans gave chase, losing it only when the car shot down a side street.

Many State Teachers To Visit Cedar Point

Approximately 1,000 public school teachers and administrators are expected to gather at Cedar Point, June 20-22, for the annual summer meeting of the Ohio Education Association.

The completed program as announced by Walton B. Bliss, O. E. A. executive secretary, will bring one newcomer to Ohio teacher audiences in the person of Dr. Dennis H. Cooke of George Peabody College, Nashville, Tennessee. Dr. Cooke is a popular lecturer in the South and will address the Ohio teachers at their Sunday evening and Monday morning sessions. His subject on Sunday evening will be "The Teacher Looks at Teaching and Then at Himself." On Monday morning he will speak on "Psychological Factors in Teacher Management."

Williams Scheduled

Another feature of the convention program will be an address by E. I. F. Williams, Heidelberg College, Tiffin, on "Horace Mann and Social Reform." Dr. Williams is the author of a recent book on Horace Mann and will bring to the Cedar Point program a part in the nation-wide observance of the Horace Mann Centennial amendments were proposed—some that appealed to the voters and others that didn't—and every one was rejected at the polls.

Rejection of the amendments undoubtedly was caused by the fact that the voters must pass on all of the proposals by one vote. For instance, they could not approve one and disapprove another.

The most controversial issue apparently headed for the 1938 convention is legalization of pari-mutuel betting at horse race track and reapportionment of legislative and congressional districts.

Pari-mutuel betting is assured a place on the agenda of the convention, as the 1937 legislature adopted a resolution urging the delegates take up the problem.

Reapportionment is probably the all-important political issue. Gov. Herbert H. Lehman and Mr. Roosevelt when governor, fought for re-districting legislation.

BUFFALO YOUTH MAY GET CHAIR OR LIFE IN PEN

Thomas Edward Smith,
Known as 'Model' Boy,
Found Guilty By Jury

DECISION UP TO JUDGE

Jackknife Murder of Mary
Babcock Cleared

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 17—(UP)—Thomas Edward Smith, 19-year-old "model" youth found guilty of first degree murder, faced death in the electric chair or life imprisonment today for the jackknife slaying of Mary Ellen Babcock.

A supreme court jury, composed largely of fathers, decided last night on first degree murder but recommended life imprisonment. The court is not bound by the recommendation. Before the new state law was passed permitting such a recommendation the death penalty was mandatory on a first degree murder conviction. Supreme Court Justice Samuel J. Harris announced he would pass sentence at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

Smith clinched his fists and trembled visibly while the verdict was read.

"I got the worst there was," he mumbled.

Attorney Pleaded

"We regard the verdict as a major victory," said Thomas J. Flynn, one of his attorneys, apparently convinced that the court would follow the jury's recommendation for life imprisonment.

"I am sure the Smith family will feel relieved if not happy over the outcome. Our efforts were concentrated on saving Smith from the electric chair."

The youth's semi-invalid, widowed mother who risked her life to testify in his behalf, was reported near collapse. She was not in the courtroom when the verdict was brought in. Neither was Smith's sister and two brothers who also testified in an effort to convince the jury that he was insane.

The jury returned its verdict shortly before 10 p. m. It began deliberations at 3:24 p. m. and reached an agreement six hours later, but it took almost a half hour before Justice Harris, the attorneys and Smith could be summoned to the courtroom.

Confessions Studied

Shortly before reaching the verdict the jury asked to examine two of Smith's confessions—one to the ice pick stabbing of 14-year-old Frances Fitzgerald, which led to his arrest, and the other to Miss Babcock's death.

Smith was known to friends and neighbors as a "model" boy who never drank or smoked, who preferred to stay home with his mother rather than go out with boys and girls of his own age.

FELON DEFIANT OF PRISON RULE RETAINS BEARD

SAN QUENTIN, Cal. (UP)—Among the many thousand prisoners at San Quentin only one has succeeded in being made an exception to the prison's rules that no inmate shall be allowed to wear a mustache or a beard.

He is Louis Genopolis, No. 58,063, but commonly known as "Green Apples," because of the sound his name makes when it is rumbled. When "Green Apples" first came to San Quentin he wore a beard and also gave indications of not being just quite right mentally. He was proud of his beard and kept it trimmed neatly.

The time eventually came, however, when he was ordered to the prison barber shop to have it cut. Immediately, Genopolis developed the violence of a maniac, waving his arms and shouting imprecations that sounded through the cellblock.

The final climax of these imprecations came when he pointed his finger at the barber and shouted:

"Anyone who tries to cut off the beard of Louis Genopolis will be stricken dead by God."

The curse was hardly finished when the barber fell dead at his feet.

Although the autopsy revealed that the barber had died of a sudden heart attack induced by the excitement brought on by the furious resistance of "Green Apples," no attempt has been made since then to have the beard shaved.

STYLE WHIMSY

A white shirtwaist dress this season may be "dressed up" with several different jackets—a collarless blazer, for instance, a hand-knit wool jacket bound in grosgrain, a bolero in suede, pique or printed sharkskin, white doeskin jacket, short, loose jacket with short sleeves.

PROTECT CHILD'S EYES

THE National Society for Prevention of Blindness has issued its annual warning to parents regarding the serious risk to children's eyesight from careless use of fireworks on the Fourth of July. The national society advocates more widespread adoption of the idea of community celebrations which include pyrotechnic exhibitions under expert supervision.

The safe and sane Fourth is still an ideal far short of attainment. An increasing number of cities and states are regulating
 the sale of firecrackers and toy explosives.
 But the ultimate responsibility for the prevention of accidents lies with parents, as individuals and as members of the community.

Attention is called to a study of Fourth of July fireworks accidents which this organization made, in cooperation with the American Museum of Safety, two years ago. This study disclosed 6,940 injuries
 which were serious enough to be mentioned in the press. Among these were 24 that were fatal; 539 eye injuries; and 57 cases
 of blindness.

There are now in American schools for the blind nearly 500 children who lost their sight as a result of accidents, chiefly
 through the use of fireworks and air rifles.
 Each year nearly 1,000 children suffer accidental eye injuries, and a number become totally blind. An extraordinary proportion of these accidents occur on the Fourth of July and during the few days
 preceding and following.

ELECTIONEERING HAZARD

PAUL V. McNUTT, U. S. high commissioner to the Philippine Commonwealth, is an able man. Like most able men, he is ambitious. It is commonly reported that he would like to run for the presidency of the United States, come 1940.

If that is correct, Commissioner McNutt
 has made an unfortunate beginning on his new job. For the cables tell how he is insisting that at public functions in Manila,
 he, High Commissioner McNutt, must be toasted immediately after the President of the United States and before the president
 of the Philippine Commonwealth, Manuel Quezon.

Just why he should insist on his pre-eminence at a time when the American government is formally getting out of the islands is not clear. Nor is it clear how such tactics will help to persuade the American democracy that Mr. McNutt is proper presidential timber.

Harry Hopkins says American taxpayers will have to foot the relief bills. Is he telling us?

German movie fans have been ordered
 not to laugh during sad parts. But can they weep at strained comedy?

World At A Glance

—By—
 Charles P. Stewart

A couple of Washington streets
 exploded from the heat the other day. The concrete pavement simply bulged up about two feet high
 and cracked open under the sun's rays.

That's the kind of weather congress is being kept here in, until
 it disposes of the legislative program which President Roosevelt
 insists on before adjournment.
 And how those lawmakers do
 howl! The senatorial and representative chambers are air conditioned but the solons' offices and committee rooms are not, nor are
 many of their apartments, scattered about town.

And no one even hopes that they will get through with their job
 before Labor day. In fact, it's suggested that the session may continue until it merges into the next one, after the first of 1938.

ANOTHER FIGHT

The fight over governmental reorganization is developing into a contest at least as stiff as the one over reorganization of the supreme court. The former hasn't yet been well advertised as the latter,
 it is getting more publicity
 day by day.

That are known as the govern-

WALL STREET FOR MATHEWS

WASHINGTON — One of the most significant undercover battles now being waged in the Nation's Capital is the Wall Street drive to put across George C. Mathews as Chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The drive is as intensive and bitter as it is secret. It is aimed primarily against William O. Douglas, adamant foe of Wall Street and the only man, in addition to Commissioner Robert E. Healy, who has the nerve to buck the brokers during these days of "don't-rock-the-boat" prosperity.

Mathews, Wall Street knows, is safe. He has proved it many times. He favored the adulteration of SEC registration forms. He sided with the New York Curb Exchange in its fight against the small exchanges. He always has been found on the reactionary
 side during any split of the Commission.

Once he was indiscreet enough to remark to a reporter that he was opposed to the Holding Company Act, a pet bill of the President's. The remark obviously was important news, and the newspaperman
 was about to publish it.

But members of the SEC, learning of its impending publication, headed it off. Subsequently they gave the newspaperman a job in the publicity section of the SEC.

TUBBY MATHEWS

Mathews comes from Wisconsin, is Republican, red-faced, and wears a wide-brimmed, almost sombrero hat. His nickname, "Tubby," derives from his girth. He has a large, gnome-like head, a belt that looks like a spliced cable, is married, and is fond of golf.

He has an excellent technical equipment, knows the securities business, but if left to his own inclinations always is to be found on the side of big business.

SECRET WIRE-PULLING

If the President has been wondering why Pennsylvania Congressmen should write him urging the appointment of Senator Joe Robinson to the Supreme Court vacancy, he can find the answer right in his personal staff.

White House Secretary Marvin McIntyre secretly inspired the letters. He sent word to the 26 Pennsylvania Democrats
 asking them, as a personal favor, to write to the President endorsing Robinson.

What was behind McIntyre's extraordinary action was not indicated. It is not known whether it means that Robinson is not the sure-fire bet for the place that he thinks he is, and that McIntyre is secretly
 trying to help him by putting pressure on the President.

So far only seven of the Pennsylvanians
 have responded to McIntyre's appeal. Each received a letter from Secretary Steve Early saying that the President had read
 their communication and would give it
 "earnest consideration."

HALL OF FAME

Tourists who have the wind and the leg muscles to climb the long, winding stair to the dome of the Capitol, 250 feet
 above the Plaza level, find there a motley assortment of names scrawled on the rough walls.

Conspicuous among them, in the large
 letters of a boyish scrawl, is the name
 "James Roosevelt."

And next to that name appears the legend: "Vote for Landon."

Love is for Tomorrow

RELEASED BY CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

By VIRGINIA SCALLON

READ THIS FIRST:

Sandy and Marcia had met quite by accident near the home of the girl's mother in an apartment building in California. He is an advertising executive who has just established his own firm and she is a talented commercial artist who has been employed by a rival firm in Los Angeles.
 After a week they fall in love. When Marcia shows so much enthusiasm for the work that Sandy feels her love for him is secondary, they part in a huff
 and return to Los Angeles separately.
 Marcia is so sure of her own ability to believe she is to be taken into the Zimman's firm. Marcia is disappointed when she finds that one Wait
 Artley has become the new partner.
 Although Marcia had sent Paula Stead-
 ard, an art student, to Sandy for a job, she becomes jealous after Sandy finds the girl. Marcia has been seeing Artley occasionally, to spite Sandy,
 but she turns against him when an accident at the office makes her realize his character. She quits her job
 because of the firm's unorthodox methods since Artley entered the picture.
 She then finds Wait has spread dangerous stories about her to other employees. Worried over her inability to obtain a job now, Marcia drops into an art gallery where she meets a man who is—Paula and Sandy! Marcia calls at Sandy's office and asks him and Paula to her apartment for supper. She keeps Paula from being with him alone. Then
 Sandy gets a call to leave.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:

CHAPTER 23

MARCIA was at a loss to know how to entertain Paula after Sandy's hurried departure, but the young artist relieved her of the responsibility a little later.
 They had just finished the light
 supper Marcia had rather half-heartedly prepared, and after a long silence, Paula gathered her courage.

"Marcia—Miss Madden," she said timidly, "you seem to dislike me for some reason. Why is it?"
 "I? Don't be ridiculous; I'm just a little tired. And I guess
 you know I resigned my job at Acme, don't you?"

Paula nodded. "Yes, I knew that. But that still doesn't account for your attitude toward me.
 I felt only gratitude toward you because you gave me the lead to the job with Sandy. But it's hard to keep on being nice to someone who obviously doesn't like you."

"You didn't act as if you cared
 so much this afternoon," Marcia reminded her companion. "Although I must say you were a good sport not to tell Sandy about my job. I don't want him to know just yet, for private reasons.
 By the way—how did you know
 so quickly?" the older girl was obviously worried.

"Heard the fellows in the press
 talking after Ad club meeting,"
 she said laconically, and Marcia respected her for not repeating
 what she might have heard further. With no attempt to justify her position in the matter, she let
 the subject drop. Forcing herself
 to take an interest in her guest,
 she inquired about her progress in Sandy's company.

Paula's quiet reserve melted
 away and she enthusiastically told
 of her pleasure in her new work.
 But more than the work, she
 seemed to glorify her employer,
 and Marcia thought she had discovered new reason for worry. As her companion talked, Marcia thought quickly. Perhaps in this case discretion was the better part of valor; it might be wiser for her
 to admit she had been wrong than to lose Sandy forever. She could picture how generous Sandy would be in victory, and her heart warmed. Graciously, she turned her full attention to Paula.

"I really was pretty terrible
 this afternoon, wasn't I?" she said
 apologetically. "I'm honestly ashamed, but I've had so much
 to worry me lately, and that business at Acme has upset me more than I'd like to admit."

"Are you engaged to Sandy?"
 Paula asked irrelevantly.

Startled, Marcia admitted a riotous display of spring flowers.

"Well, not exactly, you see we differed on some very vital matters,
 and—"

"I see," came the slow answer.
 Marcia felt the girl had penetrated
 her deepest secrets when she continued, "He probably didn't want you to keep on working."

"Why, how did you know?"
 started at her insight.
 "I felt it. And let me tell you,
 if you hurt that man I'll make it
 my business to repay you, somehow, some time. He is the most thoughtful, generous—"

Marcia interrupted her hastily.
 "I'm trying to save him, my dear.
 I only wanted to be sure."

"Sure! Why, if you loved him you wouldn't hesitate. There's nothing in the world could keep me from him, if he ever so much
 as crooked his little finger at me.
 And you?" she gulped, dashed a few tears from her eyes. "Now
 I've said it, and if you tell Sandy I'll never forgive you. There's one more thing I might as well say,
 and that's this: I'm warning you
 right now, if I can get him away from you, I will. You don't deserve him, with your weak kind of love!"

She didn't wait for Marcia to answer, but picked up her ridiculous little hat and grabbed her purse, then almost ran toward the door. Like a small child drilled in good manners, she paused long enough to say, "Thank you for the supper," before she banged the door and was gone.

Marcia sat still. She was stunned by the girl's frankness,
 and wondered just how much of her love she had revealed to Sandy. With the optimism born of his next proposal, Marcia refused to think he had noticed the young artist's regard for him.

"She must be one of the kind of women who should marry," Marcia
 said, remembering Ellen's
 classification of women into two groups: the wives and mothers,
 and the drones. Certainly the temperamental little artist had no
 place in the world of business;
 she wasn't able to dissociate professional interest and personal regard. She was clever enough to admit that a man it was she wanted—and a man she was going to catch. Sandy just happened to walk into her life at an impressionable time.

With an indulgent and pitying
 smile, Marcia began to wash the few dishes. The little kitchen was shining gaily when the phone rang, and Sandy's voice came to her over the wire. "I'll be right
 over," he shouted in his excitement; "wait for me."

Marcia waited for him with her heart in her mouth. A few minutes later the doorbell rang, and a florist's boy literally surrounded by tall boxes greeted her. He grinned sheepishly as he said,
 "These are for you, miss."

"What is this, a wedding or a funeral?" he asked a minute later,
 when she had signed the receipt.
 He scratched his head in bewilderment when she told him, "Come back in an hour, and I'll tell you."

He was halfway down the hall
 when she called, "Who sent them?"
 "I don't know. A tall skinny fella with light hair," he said. "I think he is nuts myself, but he gave me a dollar tip so I can stand it."

There was no card in any of the boxes, and after upsetting the contents of each tissue-lined carton,
 she looked about her in amazement. Six boxes in all—filled with a riotous display of spring flowers.

Feet Need Care While Owner Works and Plays

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
 A TRAVELING salesman said
 to me, "My feet would make me
 lose thousands of dollars if I did not take care of them. When my feet hurt I am

 grouchy, impatient and
 unreasonable. I lose all my tact and diplomacy."

Some departments
 stores employ podiatrists on
 their medical
 staff to keep
 the feet of
 their sales-
 girls healthy.

They consider
 it a good investment, because they know how easy it is for a weary, foot-sore
 salesperson to lose business.

In industry, employers recognize that the care of the feet aids
 good health and promotes safety.
 No factory employe is trustworthy
 on a delicate, complicated machine
 if attention is constantly distracted by a painful foot. Defective
 shoes are a source of accidents,
 particularly in the case of women,
 they being the greatest sufferers.

Old shoes should be barred as a safety health measure. Women
 in shops should wear oxfords,
 medium wide toes, with flexible
 soles and kid leather upper parts
 and heels not over 1½ inches in height. Rubber heels will absorb the shock of pounding on hard floors. Men in shops should select shoes with flexible soles to prevent

exertion in bending the feet, and
 with upper parts of lightweight
 calf, or elk for heavier work.

Foot's Danger at Play
 The foot is also in danger at play, as witness the term which has become so popular, "athlete's foot." This is an infection with a microscopic fungus plant, which gets into the skin of feet which have been macerated by standing in a shower bath. Naturally one person with an infected foot can leave enough on a gymnasium floor
 to infect the feet of an entire club.

People differ in their sensitiveness to this infection. I knew one man who was so susceptible to it
 that he had to give up bathing in
 the locker of his club entirely,
 and did all of his changing at home in his own bathroom. Even then he had to keep the floor
 rubbed with an antiseptic so as to be sure that he would not reinfest himself.

Poor shoes also play a part in the production of athlete's foot.
 Moisture and heat accumulate in heavy shoes and keep the skin soft
 and macerated. Feet need ventilation.

Those who are troubled with re-infection of athlete's foot should keep a formaldehyde pad in the shoes over night.

Charlotte Caskey and John R. Heiskell Wed

Rev. G. L. Troutman Officiates at Marriage

Madonna lilies, larkspur and roses used in the decorations made a lovely background for the wedding, Wednesday afternoon, of Charlotte Cathryn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Caskey, of N. Court street, to Mr. John Rolland Heiskell, son of Mrs. Rolland Heiskell, of E. Union street. The day also marked the 23rd wedding anniversary of the bride's mother and father.

The ceremony was performed before an altar improvised of ferns banked over the mantelpiece in the front living room of the Caskey home. Tall baskets of white reed, filled with roses and blue double larkspur flanked the altar, and a lovely bowl of pale blue delphinium, centered the mantle shelf. The Rev. George L. Troutman read the nuptial service at 2:30 o'clock.

Miss Caskey chose for her wedding a tailored white chiffon dress, over white taffeta, made floor length, with short puff sleeves, finished at the neck with a round collar, with tiny plaited ruffles of white chiffon as the only trimming. She wore a half wreath of swanstonia across the back of her hair, and carried an arm bouquet of white carnations, gypsophila and pale blue delphinium.

The bride's sister, Virginia, served as maid-of-honor. Her dress was of pale blue marquisette, over taffeta, made with a bolero jacket, trimmed with embroidered appliques of the same material. A corsage of pink carnations was pinned to her shoulder. She used white accessories.

Mr. Theodore Heiskell, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Following the ceremony, refreshments were served in the dining room. The tea table was centered with a large three-tiered wedding cake, beautifully decorated and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. After the bride cut her cake, it was served to the guests, with ice cream and fruit punch.

Other decorations in the dining room were tall white candles in squat crystal holders, and an abundance of roses and other garden flowers.

During the afternoon, the newly-married couple left for a wedding trip East, which will include a visit in Washington D. C. For travel, in Mrs. Heiskell wore a tailored suit of beige shantung, and used chardon accessories. On their return, they will be at home to their friends after July 1 at their apartment in E. Union street.

Mrs. Heiskell was graduated from Circleville high school in the class of 1933. She has been employed with the National Guaranty and Finance company, of Columbus.

Mr. Heiskell was graduated from the Circleville high school in 1930, and is connected with the State Liquor department.

About 35 relatives and close friends attended the informal affair, with the out-of-town guests including Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Williams, of Columbus; Mrs. Claude Piper and Conrad Zieck, of Sandusky; Mrs. Wilbur Potter and daughter Virginia, of Canal Winchester; Frank Perry, of Chillicothe; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Heiskell and son Teddy, of Follansbee, W. Va.; Mrs. W. E. Heiskell and Mrs. Theodore Heiskell were assisting hostesses.

Miscellaneous Shower

Complimenting Mrs. Marvin Sowers, formerly Leona Pearce, a group of friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Adolphus Pearce, E. Corwin street, Wednesday afternoon, for a miscellaneous shower. ## Romance? She Says It's Bunk

ALL that talk of romance between Libby Holman Reynolds, one-time torch singer and tobacco heiress, and Jack Doyle, singing Irish heavyweight boxer, is the bunk. Or so it seems from statements made by Miss Holman as she returned to New York from Europe aboard the same ship with Doyle. Miss Holman said she "hardly knew" Doyle and "never talked to him aboard the boat." To this Doyle said, "Oh, she scarcely knows me? All right, that's fine. I don't know her at all." Miss Holman said she had no romantic interests at all. Doyle, however, insisted he intends to marry an heiress, even if it isn't Miss Holman, when he gets a Reno divorce from Judith Allen, screen actress.

of Circleville, and Mrs. Harold McCord, of Washington C. H.

Walnut Needle Club

Mrs. Cecil Noecker, of Walnut township, entertained the members of the Walnut Needle club Wednesday afternoon, with Miss Harriet Nothstine as an additional guest. The home was beautifully decorated in garden flowers for the occasion. The afternoon was passed in playing anagrams. Lunch was served by the hostess during the tea hour. Mrs. Gayle Hanover will be hostess to the club for the July meeting.

Bridge Club Meets

Mrs. Orville Hill was a guest player Wednesday evening, when Miss Wilmina Phebus entertained her auction bridge club at her home in Watt street. When scores were tallied at the conclusion of play, prizes were given. Miss Frances Jones and Mrs. Cecil Mancini, A. dessert course was served after the game. The club will enjoy a social session at the next meeting.

Auxiliary Has FIDAC Night

The June meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held Wednesday evening in the Post Room of Memorial Hall. A short business session was presided over by Mrs. Orin W. Dreisbach. Since this is FIDAC month in the organization, the program was of an international character. A brochure of this organization was read by Mrs. Will J. Graham. Then with Miss Iona Miller as pianist, the national hymn of a nation was played with Mrs. Mary Beck locating the nation on a globe, and Miss Anna Shea displaying the flag of that nation. The national hymns, songs, and airs, of the following nations were thus offered: United States, Great Britain, Spain, France, Germany, Austria, Holland, Italy, Norway, Australia, Yugoslavia, Wales, Scotland, Russia, Finland, India, Denmark, Poland, Ireland, Portugal, Lapland, and England.

Thus the Auxiliary acquainted itself with the music of other nations and the flags symbolizing the same.

Short patriotic poetic selections were read by Miss Maggie Mavis Mrs. B. T. Hedges, the Misses Anna and Margaret Shea, Miss Lillian Young, Mrs. Robert Young, Mrs. J. H. Stout, Mrs. Beck, Mrs. Cyril Palm, Mrs. Dreisbach, and Miss Miller.

The keynote of the whole program was built around a selection from one of Tennyson's poems, "Locksley Hall."

The program closed with a music contest of some 25 piano selections played by Miss Miller, with Mrs. Robert Young as judge. The prize was won by Mrs. Dreisbach, being a gift from Mrs. Graham, program chairman.

A banquet completed the evening's activities with Mrs. Bryan

Custer, Mrs. I. W. Kinsey, Mrs. R. J. Young, Mrs. J. J. Rooney, Mrs. James Stout and Miss Lillian Young serving on the committee.

Mrs. Ater Entertains

Mrs. Clarence Ater entertained the members of her sewing club, Wednesday afternoon, at her home in Pinckney street. After a pleasant afternoon passed in sewing and social visiting, a dessert course was served by the hostess. Mrs. Carson Dresbach and Mrs. Alice Riegel, of Kingston, were among those present. Mrs. Ralph Boggs will entertain the club in two weeks at her home in Pickaway township.

Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Hosier, of Mt. Sterling, were business visitors in Circleville, Wednesday.

Mrs. Dick Rife, of Ashville, stopped in Circleville, Wednesday.

Mrs. H. B. Cramer, of Pinckney street, and Mrs. Cletus Kirchner, of S. Scioto street, visited friends in Columbus, Wednesday.

Mrs. John Wolford, of Pickaway township, was a Wednesday visitor in Circleville.

Bonnie Jean Ballou, who has been attending school in Pawhuska, Okla., is spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Ballou, of Jackson township.

Miss Louise Rodgers, of Lancaster, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Welker, of W. Mound street.

Kugelman-Barnhill Vows Exchanged in Church

Miss Kathryn Kugelman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Kugelman, of Portsmouth, and Mr. K. Elliott Barnhill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barnhill, of N. Court street, were united in marriage Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the Methodist Episcopal church, of Portsmouth. The altar, before which the nuptial vows were spoken, was banked with palms and ferns, and interspersed with madonna lilies and delphinium, arranged on tall pedestals.

A program of nuptial music was played by Eliza Cook, organist, and immediately preceding the single ring ceremony, Miss Doris Kugelman, sister of the bride, who served as maid of honor, sang several selections, including "Because," "At Dawning," "All For You" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin, made floor length with a brief train. The long sleeves extended from a yoke which formed a high neckline and ended in a point over her hands. Her English fingertip veil was of illusion tulle and was caught with a halo of satin trimmed with tiny sprays of orange blossoms. She carried calla lilies tied with a white satin bow.

Mrs. Rodney Nash, of Rochester, N. Y., as matron-of-honor, and Miss Kugelman, as maid-of-honor, wore floor length lace gowns, with short puffed sleeves and tiny buttons fastened from the high tailored necklines in front to the hem. The matron-of-honor's dress was light blue and the maid-of-honor's was of beige. They wore Juliet caps of pearls and carried shower bouquets of Briarcliff roses and belladonna delphinium.

Mr. Frank Barnhill, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Nelson Doan, Frank McIlvay, Ralph Stevens and Maurice Bailey were the ushers.

A breakfast followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents for the members of the wedding party and out-of-town guests.

Garden flowers were used in the decorations of the home, carrying out a color scheme of green and white. The bride's mother wore a navy blue flowered sheer dress with matching accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of Tailsman roses. Mrs. Barnhill, mother of the bridegroom chose for the occasion, a lace dress of dusty pink and a corsage of Briarcliff roses.

Later the bride and bridegroom left for a northern motor trip. After June 21, they will be at home to their friends in Sunbury. For traveling, Mrs. Barnhill wore a two-piece white flannel suit with British tan accessories.

The new Mrs. Barnhill is a graduate of Portsmouth high school and of Ohio university. For the last few years she has been a teacher at Scudder school. She is a member of Phi Mu social sorority. Mr. Barnhill attended

Ohio Wesleyan university, and was graduated from Northwestern university. At present he is associated with the Sunbury Lumber company. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Among out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Barnhill and son Frank, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Gerhardt, of Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. Troy Snyder, of Ashtabula; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kugelman and daughter Judy, of Chicago; Mrs. Florence Hanna and Arthur Albaugh, of Middletown, and Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Tubbs and daughter Dolores, of Pomeroy.

HURLERS SCORE SECOND GAMES FOR NEW TEAMS

White Sox and Detroit Put Aside in Splendid Performances

YANKEES STRETCH LEAD

Rick Ferrell Traded, Also, Counts Winning Run

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
NEW YORK, June 17 — (UP) — Sometimes a change in uniforms works wonders with a ball-player. That seems to be the case with Wesley Ferrell and Buck Newsom. They were discontented and a couple of large headaches to their respective managers.

On June 10 Washington shipped Newsom and Ben Chapman to the Boston Red Sox in return for the Ferrell brothers, Wes and Rick, and Mel Almada. The shift in scenery transformed Newsom and Ferrell into pitching fools.

They both won their second game within a week for their new teams yesterday. Newsom pitched the Red Sox to a 3-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Wes Ferrell hurled Washington to a 2-1 victory over Detroit in 12 innings.

Knocked From Box
Prior to their shift Newsom's record was three games won and four lost and Ferrell's three games won and six lost. Newsom had been able to pitch only two complete games and had been knocked out in four of his last five starts with the Senators. Ferrell hadn't

HUSKIES PICKED "TEAM TO BEAT" IN BIG REGATTA

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 17—(UP)—University of Washington was picked by Navy Coach Buck Walsh today as "the crew to beat" in the annual inter-collegiate regatta Tuesday.

"Navy picked the wrong year to have a great crew," Walsh said, "because Washington looks to have one of the best boats in years. Their experience is going to count a lot."

"Navy is not going in for second or third place. It's either win it all or nothing. The boys are in fine condition and they intend to come out in front—in all three races."

Al Ulbrichson, coach of the Washington Huskies, did not share the optimism of every other coach for his outfit, blaming the long train ride from Seattle for tiring them out.

INDIANS STRIVING FOR FIRST WIN ON YANK FIELD

NEW YORK, June 17—(UP)—The Cleveland Indians were still trying for their first victory of the season in Yankee stadium today.

Earl Whitehill was expected to pitch for Cleveland in the third and last game of the present series with the Yanks today. Bump Hadley was to oppose him.

The Indian war clubs were chained again yesterday as they accounted for only six hits while New York took a 4 to 1 victory and increased its American league leadership to two games.

Denny Galehouse pitched a good game for Cleveland except in the fourth inning when he let in the three winning runs. The three runs came as the result of a hard-hit double by George Selkirk, which scored three Yanks.

Three of the six hits made by Cleveland off Pitcher Lefty Gomez were made by Roy Weatherly. In the fourth inning, Averill scored from second on Solters' single for the Indians' only run.

Cleveland will move to Boston for three games with the Red Sox after the New York series.

FORCING THE LAST TRUMP
WHEN THE highest trump remains out, it should usually be forced on a side suit rather than on a trump lead. When this is done, the declarer saves one of his trumps. Another point that sometimes can be combined with this is leaving a single trump in dummy as protection against a side suit in which the declarer still has a loser.

third round of trumps, West would have won and led a club, setting the contract. Instead of permitting that, declarer led his heart 7. Had West ruffed that and returned a club, it could have been trumped by dummy and, as all the hearts were good, no other trick would have been lost.

It did not matter to South whether West ruffed or not, as hearts would have been led until West decided to take his trump trick. Regardless of when he did this, it could avail him nothing, as the double-barreled safety play assured the making of the contract.

Butters of various kinds are delicious spreads and should be kept on hand in home, especially where there are children, or where picnics are often organized. There are, besides apple and peanut butters, the less known, but none the less tasty, honey butter, lemon butter, orange and grape butter. They may be homemade or bought in glass jars.

TRAINS' CREWS NOW DIRECTING STREET TRAFFIC

Officials Say Wig-Wags May Be Placed to Add More Protection

SEVEN TRACKS CROSS

Safety Committee to Study Necessary Action

Three Pennsylvania railroad officials met with council Wednesday night to discuss signal devices for the Clinton street crossing.

No recommendations were made by councilmen pending a visit to the crossing, and further study.

Officials attending the meeting were A. C. Haynes, supervisor; H. D. Kruggel, assistant train master, both of Zanesville, and C. D. Darrah, supervisor of telegraph and signals, Pittsburgh.

Darrah told council he felt traffic at the crossing was being handled satisfactorily by the train crew. He said he would recommend some new reflector signs. He felt a wig-wag signal at the crossing would be confusing to motorists due to the vast amount of switching. There are seven tracks at the crossing.

Councilmen suggested the cars be kept a considerable distance from the crossing and the train crew use every precaution against accidents.

Council's safety committee was instructed to study the crossing to make recommendations to the company.

nance and consider that a first reading.

Councilman Marion immediately asked Solicitor Carl C. Leist to give a ruling on the new legislation. "All I can give at this time," Mr. Leist said, "is what would be considered a curbstone opinion. I believe a new company has been created and it would be a first reading."

Nicholas said the motion was presented to him Wednesday afternoon for consideration by council. Like any other motion to be offered by a councilman, Nicholas gave it to Barnes for presentation.

The name of the company was recently changed from the Southern Ohio Electric Co., to the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co.

Step Overlooked

Wallace Crist, a member of the committee of business men, told councilmen he felt one step in the proposition was being overlooked.

"In the first place the law says council shall fix the rate and not the company," he said. "The committee has studied rates and our recommendations, we believe, are with the idea any utility could serve the community at those rates, profitably. It lies with the utility to take the case to the commission."

"There isn't another power company in the state that asks a 10-year ordinance," Goeller said. "It looks like they lead you around by the nose. Mr. Neuding in his business wouldn't tie himself down for ten years. It's all right to say they will voluntarily reduce rates, but then don't come in. We haven't tried to get a shorter contract. We can pass this 5-year ordinance and then see how the company feels about it."

Harry Steinhilber said he could not understand what all the wrangling was about. "We're not cutting their rate, we can try it for five years," he explained.

"It doesn't seem right for any group of men to tie up the city for 10 years," Mr. Wallace added. "There are some men in here who are not up for re-election. Why are they so interested?"

"Such controversies just like this one have caused me to drop out of council," Marion replied. "Arguments like this get no place and cost the public money. I'm stepping out because I'm disgusted."

Neuding said he favored the ordinance because it would save the citizens some money.

Letter to Hitler

IN A personal letter to Fuehrer Adolf Hitler of Germany, Dr. Charles S. Macfarland, general secretary emeritus of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, advised Hitler that "whatever you may have done for the economic life of Germany, you have wrecked its Christian ideals." Dr. Macfarland, who made a study of the religious situation in Germany four years ago with the approval of the Reich, emphasized his letter was in a personal capacity and in a spirit of friendliness.

because it would save the citizens some money.

In asking council to consider a five-year contract, Gordon said he felt that citizens and business men were opposed to a 10-year contract. He explained the rates would be the same as those offered by the company. His motion was seconded by Helwagen.

"This same proposition was brought up at the meeting of councilmen, the business men's committee and company officials," Marion said. "The company refused it and it only means further delay. It has been a year since we started on this thing and we're going into attorney fees and a court struggle." He referred to a recent gas controversy concerning a company to furnish the city gas at a lower rate. "They got the lines to the river and I think they are still there," he said.

Councilman Neuding said he felt the Gordon amendment would be a waste of time. "This will just make another delay, and delays are expensive," he said. "If we delay this thing we are working for the company and against our citizens, as it's costing our citizens more money."

Councilmen Barnes and Leist both believed the amendment would not help the situation. Barnes referred to past experience of the city in utility cases.

"To suggest a rate and get it are two different propositions," Mr. Leist said. "If we have to fight this thing through the commission it will cost a lot of money and we're not gaining anything."

Firestone tire factory in the outskirts of Bilbao, and pushed forward simultaneously from the southeast Dos Caminos railway station towards one of Bilbao's largest reservoirs.

It appeared likely that the city's scant water supply would be reduced to a point where life would be impossible for even the troops remaining there.

The fiercest close-in fighting of the siege occurred on the west side of the Nervion when the insurgent columns, advancing on the three mountain crests beyond Dos Caminos, drove the defenders from their positions with hand grenades and bayonets.

SOVIET RUSSIA

The Far Eastern Republic, was relieved of his duties yesterday and expelled from the central executive committee of his government. No reason was given. President Larin of the Black Sea executive committee was denounced as an enemy of the people. Kalmonovich, until recently commissar for state farms of the whole union, was arrested as a wrecking along with others of almost equal prominence.

The editor of one of the biggest newspapers, Zvezda, in white Russia, was denounced as a Trotskyist. In the automotive industry the production chief was warned in newspapers that eight days remained to him to get a flow of automobile parts started or to face trial. Executives of chemical, rubber, textile and other industries were warned that they must increase the efficiency of their units. Some were denounced as Trotskyists. The officials of a big veterinary hospital were charged with sending plague germs instead of medicines to farms.

So great was the present purge that it was clearly on even a more gigantic scale than those which came after the treason trials of last January and the preceding August.

GOVERNOR'S PEACE EFFORTS FAILURES

sponsible. Lewis has ordered a strike in all mines owned by the steel companies. He threatened strikes in other mines to which steel company business might be transferred.

CHICAGO—Lewis will speak tonight at an S. W. O. C. meeting—his first speech on the steel situation since the strike began May 26.

There were no immediate indications as to what the White House reaction to Davey's appeal would be. An earlier request from Republic strikers in Chicago was referred by the president to the National Labor Board.

The stand taken by executives of the companies involved indicated they would not be disposed to yield to federal pressure any more than they did to Davey's appeals that they sign a contract or submit the issue to the labor board.

Efforts by Sheet & Tube and Republic to reopen closed plants were expected within a few days. A delegation claiming to represent 9,000 Sheet & Tube non-strikers was told by Frank Purnell, the company's president, that first he must make sure that local authorities could protect them adequately.

Owens, directing the strike in the Youngstown district, declared the C.I.O. had affidavits to prove that some names on the petition handed to Purnell "are those of men who never worked in the steel mills, that others signed under orders from foremen who went to their homes."
